Sazdo Stanojković-Sašo

TANGO WITH THE DEVIL

How to recognize and normalize the excessive ego within oneself and the other people

Sazdo Stanojković-Sašo

TANGO WITH THE DEVIL

How to recognize and normalize the excessive ego within oneself and the other people

Skopje 2022

TANGO WITH THE DEVIL

How to recognize and normalize the excessive ego within oneself and the other people

Author:
Sazdo Stanojković-Sašo

Recension by:
Dr. Ferid Muhić
Dr. Jordan Plevneš
Dr. Venko Andonovski

Lector:
Martina Janevska

Graphic design of the cover:
Sazdo Stanojković-Sašo

TANGO WITH THE DEVIL

– How to recognize and normalize the excessive ego within oneself and the other people –

(Short description of the book)

The book Tango With the Devil is a result of a many-year scientific work, whose author wants to help the readers find out the reasons for the increasingly pronounced selfishness, acquisitiveness, hypocrisy, insincerity, envy, wrath, malice and hate, and to offer solutions for their overcoming as well, since they poison the soul and destroy love and happiness in interpersonal relations. The author also gives practical advice how to recognize the excessive ego in oneself and the others, in order to bring the ego within the limits of normal and harmless. Also, the truths and the practical pieces of advice presented will help the reader find out how to recognize all the traps of the shrewd one (the devil) in order not to become unwillingly his servant, i.e. his victim, with unforeseeable negative consequences for him/herself and the other people he/she is in touch with. This book is a quality and educative handbook for every family with young children, so that the parents will be able using truths of wisdom to educate them while they are still at a very young age on how to avoid mishaps and negative consequences of the influence of the excessive ego and the devil's destructive suggestions, which they may inflict to themselves and the other people as well. This original and universal literary work, useful for all the generations, has been written in a simple, colloquial language understandable to all the people of any intellectual level. This book, abundant in truths of wisdom, practical pieces of advice and ideas, is intended to help the reader make his/her life longer, more successful, happier and more purposeful.

If we look at the world with the eyes of an angel (i.e. in a realistic and impartial way) from the angle of a high level of awareness, we can see a lot of absurds and illogicalities in the interpersonal relations which, probably under the influence of the demonic (destructive and detrimental) higher powers, lead the mankind into an accelerated process of self-destruction. Generally speaking, we are all witnesses that the world is congested by a degenerate system of human values, which results in ever smaller percentage of richer and richer people and ever bigger percentage of poorer and poorer people, where the omnipresent evil, hate, selfishness, egoism, homicides and suicides reign sovereign, while love and humanitarianism are less and less present and are in an increasing process of extinction. It is a very sad fact that beautiful women are not with the top-quality men in their friendly or marital relations, and also the fact that top-quality men are not the most successful, richest men at the highest social (political or corporate) positions, and are not married to top-quality (beautiful and highly moral) women. Why is in this world everything turned upside-down and why, in general terms, top-quality persons are married to low-quality persons? We live in a time of deviancy and disordered system of criterions about human values, where the money and material goods are of top importance and are the primary criterion for evaluating a person's quality, especially when it comes to the issue of choosing a new friend or the future spouse. The world is congested by lies, envy, hate, selfishness, malice and evil in the interpersonal relations, which make people unhappy and ill, thus shortening their lives. There are less and less philanthropes and more and more greedy money-grubbers (acquisitive materialists) who, in order to grab more money, are ready to become what they really aren't and to sell what must never be on sale. There are more and more friendships and marriages based on one's own material interest, and less and less based on mutual love and respect between two persons of same spiritual and emotional frequency and similar levels of personal values, and exactly for this reason unhappiness, hate and evil which result in adultery, divorces, family violence, and even homicides, are a common phenomenon in marriages and friendships. We are all witnesses that evil, envy and hate reign in this world, whereas, unfortunately, true love, humanity and sincerity are less present as true generators of intense and long-lasting person's happiness that gives meaning to human life.The main, essential reason for the increasingly negative interpersonal relations is the excessive ego in the people and the inobservance of the moral and ethical principles which have been thoroughly explained in the holy writs of the main world religions. To the most of the people captured by their excessive ego, the material pleasures are more important than the emotional (love), and they are selfishly acquisitive and greedy in order to obtain more material goods than they really need for living a happy life.

The happiest person is the one who has the least needs and is satisfied with little things. Keeping one's own ego within the normal limits (i.e. not to be noxious either for the oneself or for the other people) is the main and indispensable prerequisite for achieving intense and lasting happiness which gives sense to human life. The excessive ego can be normalized only by mutual exchange of unconditional love with other people. Simply said – the negative energy can be normalized (i.e. neutralized) only by the means of positive energy. Unfortunately, the majority of the people have excessive ego with all its negative manifestations, and these people very often become faithful servants of the Satan (the Prince of Darkness), executing his orders for doing destructive activities. These egoists are imprisoned in their own greed for material and sexual pleasures and have high-set but hard to attain life goals, very often become servants of the Satan and by doing evil they make unhappy not only themselves, but other people too. Some people who are endowed with pronounced intuition (the third eye, i.e. the sixth sense) are fortune-tellers (looking at playing cards, palm of the hand, crystal bowl, etc.) who also perform various occult techniques and magic rites, but in fact they are mere servants of the Satan and his evil intentions to the people. Also, quite often some people, especially those with a low level of awareness in specific situation of nervousness, fear, grief or depression, unwillingly accept Satan's spiritual suggestions as their own thoughts and like hypnotized obediently do capital crimes, including homicides or suicides. After the act of homicide, the doers cannot be recognized by their friends, nor they themselves can believe they have done such an atrocity. This is the hardest evidence that the people in specific situations with lowered soundness of the mind may unwillingly become servants and thus victims of Satan's destructive suggestions. The devil himself doesn't kill people, instead he influences people through his suggestive thoughts so that they would kill other people or themselves. The shrewd one (the devil) destroys peoples' lives most efficiently using women's beauty, the power of the government or the money. All those people who willingly or unwillingly become servants of the Satan in fact play a dangerous tango with the devil, destroying their own and other peoples' lives too. To avoid on time playing that tango with the devil which spoils the quality or even destroys the own or other peoples' lives, it is necessary to be able to recognize those mental suggestions that they are not one's own but are implied by higher demonic powers, so that those thoughts can be instantly ingnored and rejected as harmful to the own health, happiness and the life itself. These mental suggestions by the higher demonic powers, which in particular situations bombard human mind, are always malicious in intention, with the end goal of inflicting as big as possible calamity and mental anguish i.e. shortening the mandate of existence of as many people on this planet as possible. If we are able to recognize that these destructive thoughts are not creation of our own, but are imposters in our mind as mental suggestions from the devil, then we can more easily avoid the hypnotic action of these tricks of the shrewd one (Satan) and thus not become his obedient servants and doers of various wrongdoings and crimes with unforeseeable consequences for ourselves as well as the other people with whom we are in touch. The act of recognizing these imposed thoughts, and consequently their not carrying out, is possible only if we have a higher level of mental awareness and keep our own ego within the normal limits thus being able to avoid all its negative manifestations leading to noxious consequences for peoples' health and life itself. The sense of our lives i.e. our limited mandate of existence, is to be as happy as possible and as less unhappy as possible. Happiness is a beneficial emotional state of joy in a persons' soul, which lasts for a certain period of time. This means that happines is a mosaic of little joys emerging from different sources. In general, the majority of the people are more unhappy than happy in their lives. Happiness gives sense to our lives and existence, and unhapiness deprives it of having sense. Our lives would be e real hell if they are full of unhappiness and anguish instead of being full of pleasure and joy, and in such case they will become completely senseless where the only solution and salvation would be the death. When we are unhappy instead of being happy in a longer period of time, we completely lose the purpose of our existence no matter we are still alive, and exactly this state is the main motive for every act of suicide. The people who are distinctively more unhappy than happy have individually different critical points at which their lives become totaly senseless, and then such people, especially those with low level of awareness, fall under the suggestive influence of the Satan and find salvation in the act of directly or indirectly commited suicide. When we or our beloved are seriously shaken by some big calamity or serious disease, we become aware of how much we haven't appreciated our lives and health, how much we want to stay alive and how much we have to give and create, how injust we have been to our closest people, how much we have been unreasonably nervous about some trifles, how greedy we have been for material things, and how ungrateful and blind we have been about our own worth and what we have, instead of being happy for having all that. Beside bringing anguish to our souls and thus depriving our lives of their sense, misery is also an inhibitor of our happiness by reducing the intensity of our feelings of happiness caused by the sources of our joy. Absence of misery doesn't necessarily mean presence of joy and happiness. When we are not unhappy we are in fact saved of our souls' anguish, and we have an opened way to enjoying both the big and the small sources of our joy. Therefore it is of essential importance to learn how to act preventively in order to avoid the sources of unhappy feelings which poison our souls and hinder every feeling of joy.

In these bad times of disordered system of human values and increasing alienation, hate and evil, and less love and happiness, most of the people are hungry for information and techniques for achieving better health and success, and bigger joy and longer-lasting happiness in their lives. These people are trying to satisfy that hunger through reading various kinds of books and attending all kinds of trainings, courses and lectures. Exactly for this reason I have written this book – a scientific work conceived as a manual for the whole lifetime and intended to all the present and future generations, which is abundant in truths, principles and ideas on how to become healthier, more successful and happier in your mandate of existence. This work is so designed and composed, so that not to burden the reader with either the terminology used or its volume, and has been written in a colloquial, simple language understandable to every reader of any intelectual level. This is a universal handbook intended for a wider circle of readers interested in knowing the truth, and the right steps in establishing quality interpersonal relations. It is a scientific work and an original piece of literature of cultural and edicational character, and has a universal importance, cosmic dimensions and timeless truths useful to all the present and future generations in the world. This work is not only a piece of scientific literature, but it is also a handbook for every person of any age and, for the difference from the books, novels and poetry which are only transient pleasures, is abundant in life truths, practical pieces of advice and ideas intended to help the readers make their lives be longer, more successful, happier and with more meaning. You can easily see that the book is very unique and original, since the lots of facts, answers and truths contained in it are a result of the author's many-year analytical research and practical life experience, as well as of the intuitively acquired information from the universal intelligence. This book is intended to a wider circle of readers interested in getting acquainted with the truth and the right steps in the process establishing quality interpersonal relations. In this book, the author gives as a gift to all the current and future readers a multitude of right pieces of advice, ideas and solutions for achieving better-quality interpersonal relations and bigger joy in everyday life. Through universal truths originating from the real life, the readers of this book will have the opportunity to become aware of various illusions and prejudices in the interpersonal relations, which most often, at unconscious level, make an obstacle to the people in achieving happier and longer life. This book would be of bigger practical value if it becomes available (through buying, giving as a present, lending) to a bigger as possible number of readers who will read, underdstand and implement in their lives the truths presented and, what is more important – will convey these truths to other people, in the first place to their children or grandchildren, preferably while they are still at a very young age. The book is a reminiscence in the quest for knowledge, happiness and everything else we have lost, but becomes increasingly important as the years pass by. The book is abundant in wise timeless truths, useful ideas and pieces of advice which are read and re-read the entire lifetime, and that's why it is recommendable to be present in as many homes as possible throughout the world, as a useful handbook for all the generations.

The purpose of this book is to satisfy the needs and the tastes even of the most fastidious readers. The author's idea is with this book to help the readers icrease their knowledge and help them in resolving their problems brought about by the unpredictable time and life. His goal is, through the universal truths from the real life, given in this book, to help the readers become able of recognizing all the illusions and prejudices in the interpersonal relations, which most often, at unconscious level, impede the people in achieving happier and loger life.

The largest portion of the truths given in this book are in fact information obtained from the universal intelligence, most often in the morning hours, in an intuitive way, in the form of different thoughts emerging one after another, later linked in chains and then assembled in a mosaic the author has been composing for years after that. Since nothing is by chance (senseless and without its own reason) in the Universe, neither the information donated by the Universe nor the book itself came accidentally into existence. The author decided to write down these truths obtained as a flood of pieces of mental information, so that they would not go away irretrievably, for in a short time after they had appeared they disappeared like soap bubbles. The interesting thing in it was that every morning when the author was writing down those pieces of information (truths) from the Universe, just after they had appeared, new ones appeared also on the same topic, and this process lasted for hours. Since these timeless truths had been obtained as a gift from the Universe, the author felt that his duty was to transfer them as a present to as many readers as possible in this beautiful world, through this book. After many years of patient work, the author managed to compose the mosaic of truths, ideas, pieces of wisdom and pieces of advice useful for the success and happiness of all the readers born or who will be born on this planet. The author's motive and inspiration for making his many-year piece of intellectual work originates from his complete belief and experience that this literary creation will be in fact the entrance of his spirit into the dimensions of eternity. The book is a mosaic made of a wide spectrum of truths, ideas and pieces of advice, which are in fact the speech of the author's spirit and soul. This original and universal literary work does not burden the reader, since it has been written in a simple, colloquial language understandable to every spiritual level of readers.

All of you, the readers, who will have the honour and the privilege to read this scientific, philosophic and psychologic book of practical use, will be able not only to increase your level of awareness of the cognized timeless truths, practical pieces of advice and pieces of wisdom, but also to become more successful, healthier and happier, with a longer mandate for your existence. This many-year scientific piece of work, as a practically useful and educative book, will surely spur a large interest and receive positive critics not only from the domestic, but also from the foreign public. Those who will completely and with full concentration understand the essence and the truthfulness of this book, are going to experience an exciting journey to the higher dimensions of awareness.

The biggest wish of the author of this book full of timeless, universal and educative truths, is the book to be printed in as many as possible world languages, so that as many as possible readers throughout the world will be able to acquire it only at a symbolic price (which will be just enough for covering the printing costs) and have it in their homes as a permanent handbook for themselves and the next generations in the family. For that goal, the author's intention is the money earned from the copies sold to be invested in a new cycle of printing, so that after several cycles there would be enough finance for translating the book into English language and then in other world languages, all that with the end goal as many people in the world as possible to have the opportunity to read it. This way we – the author, who has invested huge efforts in writing the book, and you – the readers who have bought the book, will together contribute for spreading the positive energy, love, happiness and, in the first place – scientific truths, among as many as possible people throughout the world.

The author's biggest reward for the invested many-year labour is as bigger as possible number of readers to get the chance to read this book and, above all – to help them make their lives more successful, prettier and happier. The author's most important benefit from this original book is not the glory or the material profit, but the fact that the book is the ticket which is going to take him, i.e. his spirit and soul, into eternity. There is no bigger satisfaction and happiness for the soul than the notion that you create something very useful to all the next generations, and the creation which is going to take you to the eternity would finally come out better than you have imagined initially. It is same as the person has never existed, if he/she doesn't have own creations and deeds. The rare genius minds, because of their highly developed intuition i.e. direct link with the universal intelligence (the total knowledge and all the existing information in the Universe) have the credit for all the scientific discoveries, inventions and technological achievements which make peoples' lives simpler and more joyful. Only the rare wise minds with high level of spiritual awareness have the privilege, through the intuitive information acquired and the constructive analyses done from the aspect of the general perception of the peoples' majority, to get close to the absolute truths which have always been and will always be inaccessible to the average human mind. The wise geniuses are not selfish or with excessive ego, and that's why they gladly give the cognized timeless truths as a present to the other people and the next generations, through their spoken or written word and above all through their creations useful to the mankind, thus accomplishing their exceptional role and purpose of existence on this planet. The cunning devil never sleeps and in all possible ways suggestively destructively influences the minds of people, all with the ultimate goal of directly influencing or destroying as many human lives on the planet as possible through his obedient servants (evil people and Satanists). So be careful what books you read, what music you listen to and most importantly what people you hang out with or are in an intimate relationship with.

It would be a very sad thing if the author's highly educative books are read and understood only by a small number of very intelligent readers, for in such case his main goal – through timelless and educative truths to enlighten the majority of the people in the world and thus save it of the self-destruction desired by the devil.

The book "TANGO WITH THE DEVIL" is a wonderful gift which can be given for or without some special occasion, and it is desirable to be present in every home as an useful handbook for all the generations.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Part 1
Excessive Ego Makes a Person Unhappy

1. What is ego and what is its purpose of existence?

2. How the ego becomes excessive and harmful for the person?

3. Excessive ego destroys peoples' happiness and life
3.1. Excessive ego imprisons the soul
3.2. Excessive ego is the biggest enemy of unconditional love
3.3. People with excessive ego are faithful servants of the shrewd Satan

4. How to discipline the excessive ego
4.1. Only a sufficiently high level of awareness can normalize the excessive ego
4.2. Unconditional love neutralizes the excessive ego
4.3. High religious and ethic principles can normalize the excessive ego
4.4. Big fear suppresses the excessive ego
4.5. Joy and happiness can normalize the ego

5. Recognition is the first step to normalization of the excessive ego
5.1. Signs for recognizing the excessive ego in other people
5.1.1. Atheists are persons with excessive ego
5.1.2. How to recognize typical egoists (persons with excessive ego)
5.1.3. How to distinguish a wise from a shrewd person
5.1.4. Wise people are highly aware persons with disciplined ego
5.1.5. Shrewd people have excessive ego and are faithful servants of the devil
5.1.6. Some practical pieces of advice regarding typical egoists
5.2. Signs for recognizing the own excessive ego

6. The most frequent manifestations (signs for recognizing) of excessive ego

7. Characteristic truths about the ego

8. Truths of wisdom about the ego

Part 2
The Devil Destroys Peoples' Lives

1. The shrewd one (the devil) destroys human lives

2. The shrewd one (the devil) is the creator of the evil

3. The shrewd one (the devil) is the father of the lie

4. How and what way the shrewd one (the devil) acts on people

5. When i.e. in which moments the shrewd one (the devil) is most efficient

6. In which fields the shrewd one (the devil) achieves the biggest results
6.1. The influence of the shrewd one (the devil) through the power of money
6.1.1. About the might and magic of the money
6.1.2. How the shrewd one (the devil) acts through the power of the authorities
6.1.3. It is worth to remember about the money and material wealth
6.1.4. Pieces of wisdom about money
6.1.5. Pieces of wise advice about money
6.1.6. Pieces of wise advice about borrowing money
6.2. The influence of the shrewd one (the devil) through the power of the authorities
6.2.1. About the might and magic of the government
6.2.2. How the shrewd one (the devil) acts through the power of the authorities
6.2.2.1. The government is perceived as a good opportunity for getting rich quickly and easily
6.2.2.2. Devilish is the way to coming and staying in power for a longer period of time
6.2.2.3. The authority changes the people in a negative direction
6.2.2.4. It is demagogy that according to the Constitution all the citizens have equal rights
6.2.2.5. Democracy is a term invented for manipulating the people by the authorities
6.2.2.6. The government fakes the elections according to its will 6.2.2.7. The judiciary is an obedient servant of the executive and legislative authorities
6.2.2.8. The government is in conjunction with the rich people and serves them, not the people
6.2.2.9. The government doesn't serve, but masters with and steals from its own people
6.2.2.10. The government produces wars
6.2.3. The government is a necessary evil
6.2.4. Till there are sheep, there will be wool too
6.2.5. Only wise people can save the world
6.3. The influence of the shrewd one (the devil) through the power of women's beauty
6.3.1. About the might and magic of women's beauty
6.3.1.1. Women's beauty makes obedient monkeys of the men
6.3.1.2. Women's beauty is a transient power
6.3.1.3. Women's beauty is inversely proportional to intelligence
6.3.2. How the shrewd one (the devil) acts through the power of women's beauty
6.3.2.1. Manifestations of evil through women's slyness
6.3.2.2. To the majority of the beauties more important are material pleasures than love
6.3.2.3. The illegitimate children, and especially the abortions, are diabolic acts (decisions) of the women
6.3.3. The majority of the beauties are unhappy because of the wrong choices
6.3.4. The majority of the beauties are undeserved present to low-quality men
6.3.5. The majority of the beauties are the main culprits for all the failed marriages in the world

7. What persons become the most faithful servants of the shrewd one (the devil)

8. Which are the negative creations (energies) of the shrewd one (the devil)
8.1. Energetic vampirism destroys human lives
8.2. Black magic destroys human lives
8.2.1. Ways of performing black magic 8.2.2. How to find salvation from the negative energy of the black magic 8.2.3. The shamans cure of black magic

9. How to protect ourselves from negative energetic influences

10. How can one save him/herself from the negative influences of the shrewd one (the devil)

11. Wise truths about the shrewd one (the Satan)

Author's bigraphy

Sazdo Stanojkovic - Sasho

TANGO WITH THE DEVIL

was born on February 20th 1965 in Skopje (Macedonia). Has graduated at the Faculty of Electrical Engineering in 1990 in his hometown. Worked as an electrical engineer in PE "Elektrostopanstvo" of Macedonia. The book Tango With the Devil is a result of a many-year scientific work, whose author wants to help the readers find out the reasons for the increasingly pronounced selfishness, acquisitiveness, hypocrisy, insincerity, envy, wrath, malice and hate, and to offer solutions for their overcoming as well, since they poison the soul and destroy love and happiness in interpersonal relations. Keeping one's own ego within the normal limits (i.e. not to be noxious either for the oneself or for the other people) is the main and indispensable prerequisite for achieving intense and lasting happiness which gives sense to human life. The author also gives practical advice how to recognize the excessive ego in oneself and the others, in order to bring the ego within the limits of normal and harmless. Also, the truths and the practical pieces of advice presented will help the reader find out how to recognize all the traps of the shrewd one (the devil) in order not to become unwillingly his servant, i.e. his victim, with unforeseeable negative consequences for him/herself and the other people he/she is in touch with.The shrewd one (the devil) destroys peoples' lives most efficiently using women's beauty, the power of the government or the money.

